More about the musicians performing today

Dan Landrum: Dan Landrum's virtuosic hammer dulcimer playing has taken him from street performing in Chattanooga to Olympic Ceremonies, U.S. Presidential Inaugurations, music festivals around the country and international stages. He's been on the road since 2003 as a soloist with Greek performer Yanni and is currently featured in the PBS Special "Yanni Live: The Concert Event" which was released in August 2006. His energetic playing style and unique approach to this ancient instrument are also evident in his six self-produced CDs which are available on iTunes and through danlandrum.com.

Ben Friberg Trio: The Ben Friberg Trio is a jazz ensemble who has mastered the language of jazz. Ben takes influence from greats such as Frank Sinatra, Thelonius Monk and Miles Davis.

Ogya: The Ogya band is a new world music band, based in Chattanooga. Founded by Kofi Mawuko, a Ghanaian based in Chattanooga, comprised of well experienced musicians who have played with some world renowned musicians and has toured the world. Ogya band is a high energy band that will make you dance and dance and dance until you are out of breath. Ogya incorporates elements from several styles of music including afro beat, reggae, jazz, calypso, soca, highlife, juju music, blues and other world music and has been influenced by artists such as Osibisa, Sting, Bob Marley and Richard Bona.

Lon Eldridge: Lon Eldridge was raised in the small town of Spring City in East Tennessee. Growing up, he was always surrounded by family members who loved and played music. At age 13, he picked up the guitar for the first time. Ever since then he has crafted his music into his own unique blend of raw Delta blues, driving bluegrass, Gospel and mellow jazz (to name a few). Now age 22, Lon sings with a powerful, moving voice and plays more than ten different instruments, giving him a musical diversity that will keep you on the edge of your seat. Lon has shared the stage with musical greats such as The Lovell Sisters, Mike Farris, David Crowder Band, The Mueller Family, Dan Landrum and many more.

John Lathim: John Lathim performs a unique acoustic blend of Scotch, Irish and mountain music. John presents a cultural European-American folk sound with original compositions. John's vocal sound has been compared to Gordon Lightfoot. His songs tell of rural life of the farmer, the traveling vagabond and the minstrel, weaving stories of the pioneers and days gone by. John also sings about the working class culture and social issues. His recent albums include "Chorus in the Wildwood", "Native Sons of the Pioneer Days" and "From the Heart of the Tiller Man".
